Mayor Masayko opened the ceremony at 9 a.m. by explaining the purpose of the ceremony and thanking the audience for attending. He also thanked City Manager John Berkich and Administrative Assistant Liz Teixeira for the refreshments. The protocol for the ceremony was described.

Rev. Bruce Henderson of the Airport Road Church of Christ gave the Invocation. Mayor Masayko led the Pledge of Allegiance and thanked Rev. Henderson for the Invocation. He explained the positions that were to be sworn in and introduced District Court Judge William Maddox. Roll call of the elected officials was taken. All were present. Judge Maddox swore in the elected officials and congratulated each individual. The elected officials signed their documents. Mayor Masayko congratulated them on their appointments and welcomed them to speak. Sheriff Furlong thanked the audience for attending and the community for supporting the officials. He thanked the Sheriff's officers and staff for their support and assistance in making the transition to a new administration. He also indicated that it had been his childhood dream to be the City's Sheriff. Supervisor Livermore expressed his pleasure at being sworn in for a new four year term and looks forward to facing the coming challenges including the searches for a new Ward 2 Supervisor and a City Manager, the economic and opportunities challenges of the future, and the completion of the freeway. He welcomed the opportunity to work with the community and Board during the coming four years. He congratulated the other elected officials on their appointments. Mayor Masayko thanked the audience for attending and indicated that it was the largest group he had seen at the ceremony or that could be remembered. He
