Death of J A Burlingame

Appeal, June 1902

The Morning Register published at Eugene, Oregon, thus speaks of the death of J. A. Burlingame, a brother of Jas. Burlingame of this city.

All that is mortal of J. A. Burlingame, patriot, statesman and a prominent citizen of Eugene, now lies in state at the family home in University addition.

Notwithstanding many favorable reports from the sick bed from time to time, deceased could not rally from the effects of a second surgical operation at St. Vincent's hospital, Portland, and he died on Saturday at 1:30 a.m. The news came as a shock to his many friends in Eugene and vicinity. Yesterday south bound passenger bore the remains to this city accompanied by deceased's wife.

Mr. Burlingame was an upright and highly respected citizen of this community. He was prominent in lodge circles having held membership in J. W. Geary Post G.A.R. and Royal Arch Masons. During the Civil War he served in Company K, 2nd Maine Volunteers and in the 1st Maine heavy artillery. He was elected at various times to high places of public trust, including the office of state senator of Nevada. He was aged 60 years.

The funeral will take place this afternoon at 2:30 o'clock from the family residence and the Masonic cemetery. Rev. Max H. Wallace, pastor of the Congressional church will conduct the services at the home. The G.A.R. burial services will be included in the interment ceremonies.

Mr. Burlingame was for some years a resident of Carson. He was for 13 years connected with the Carson Mint as deposit melter and leaves a large circle of friends in this city.

He also served two terms in the Nevada Legislature representing this county and Storey and served two terms as internal revenue collector for Nevada.
